STARRING

Annie: Hey! It's summer break!
What R-U-Doing 2-Nite?

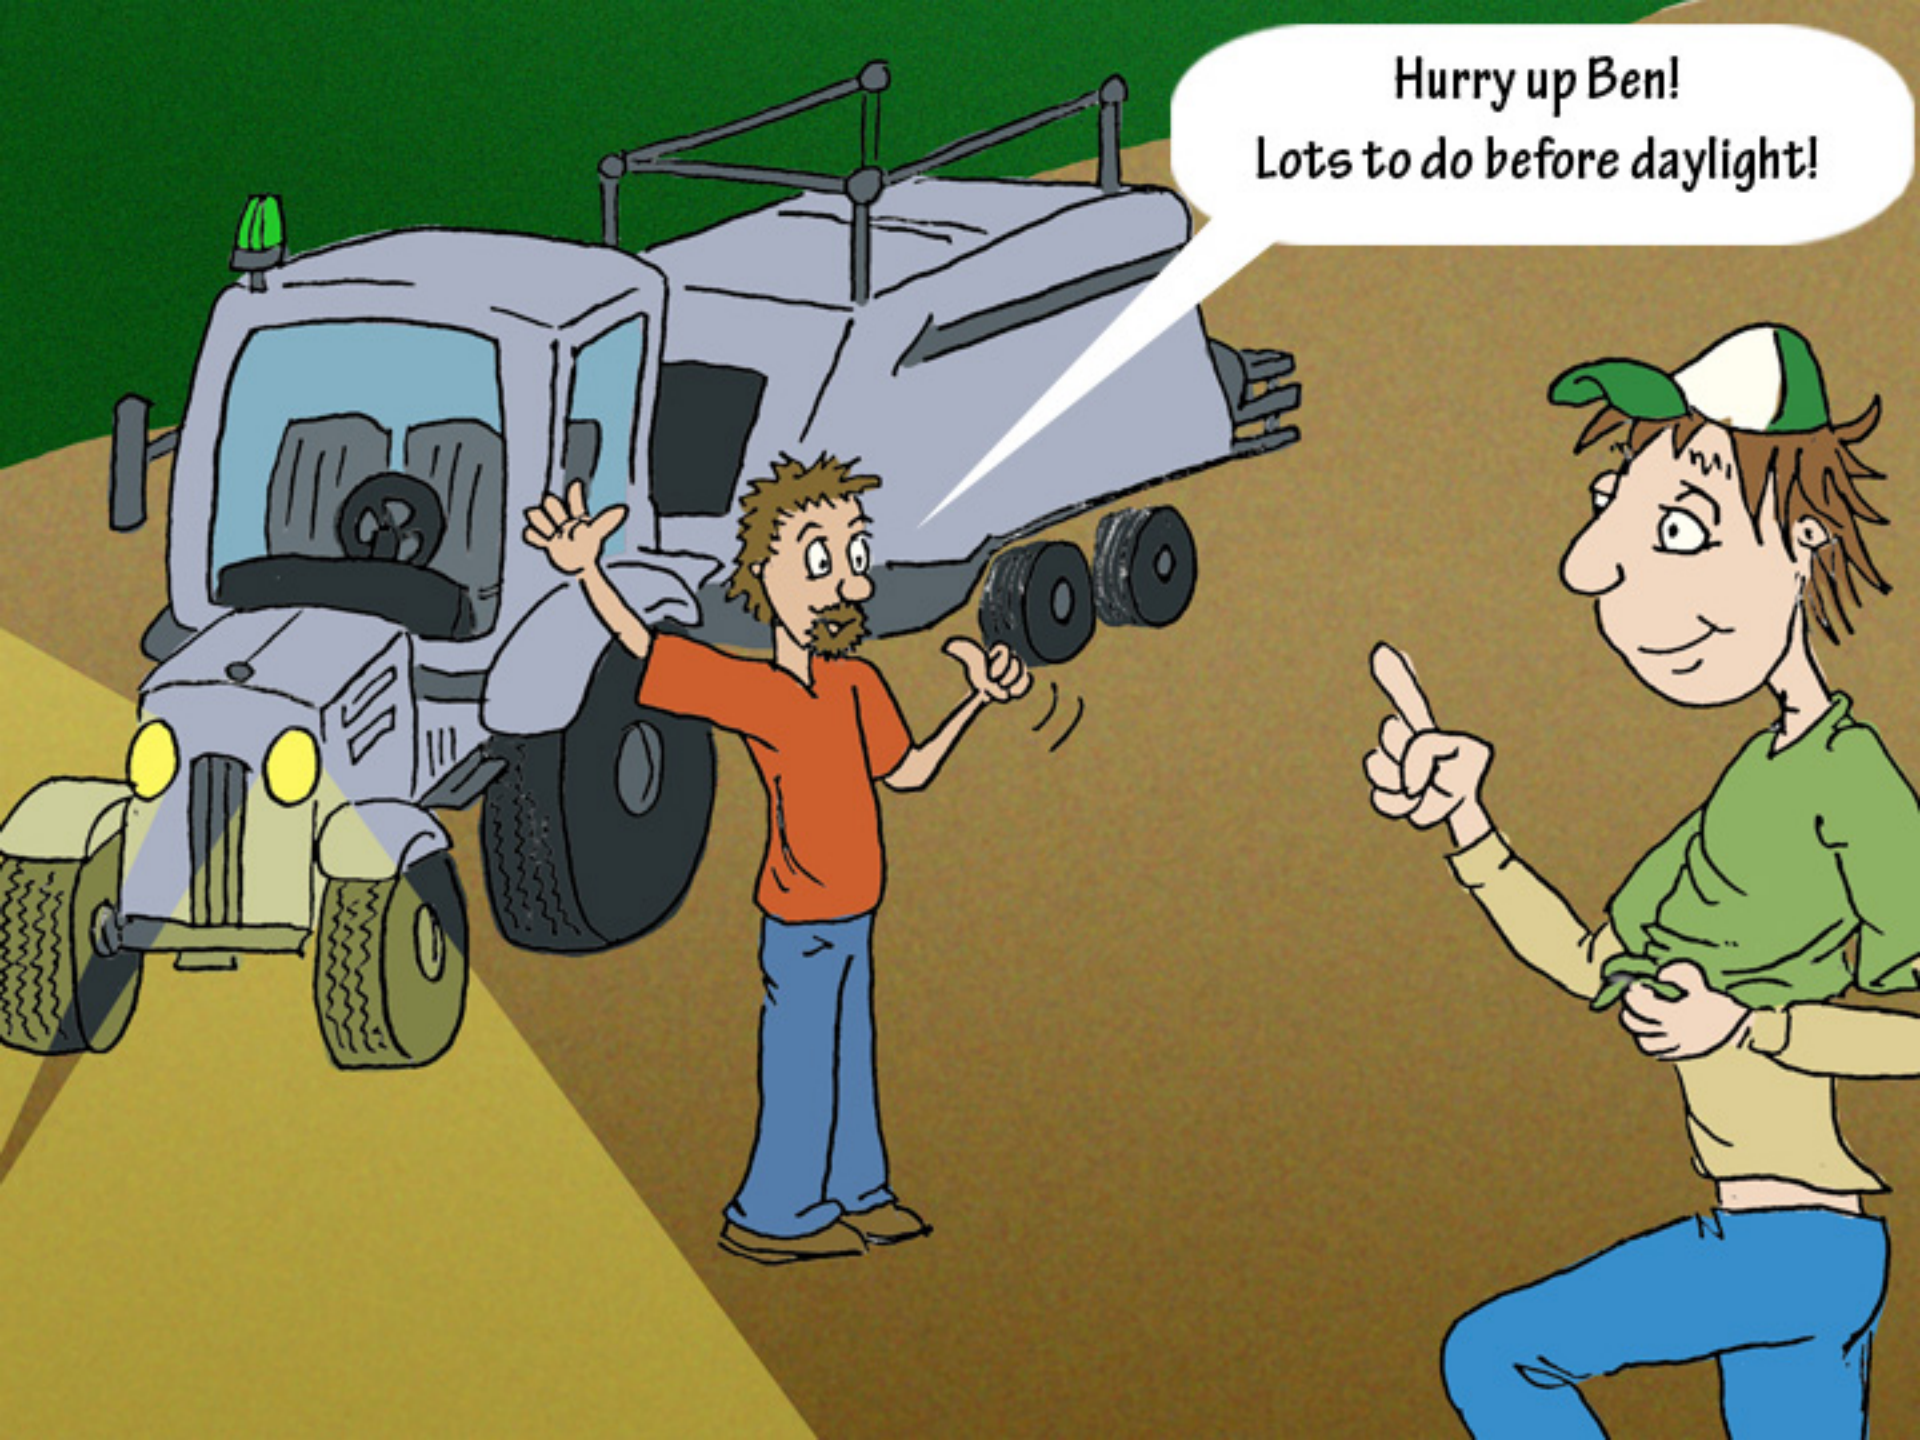

Me: Hay

Annie: Hay?

Me: Hay! G2G_TTYL

Time to go Ben! Hay is waiting!

Hurry up Ben!
Lots to do before daylight!

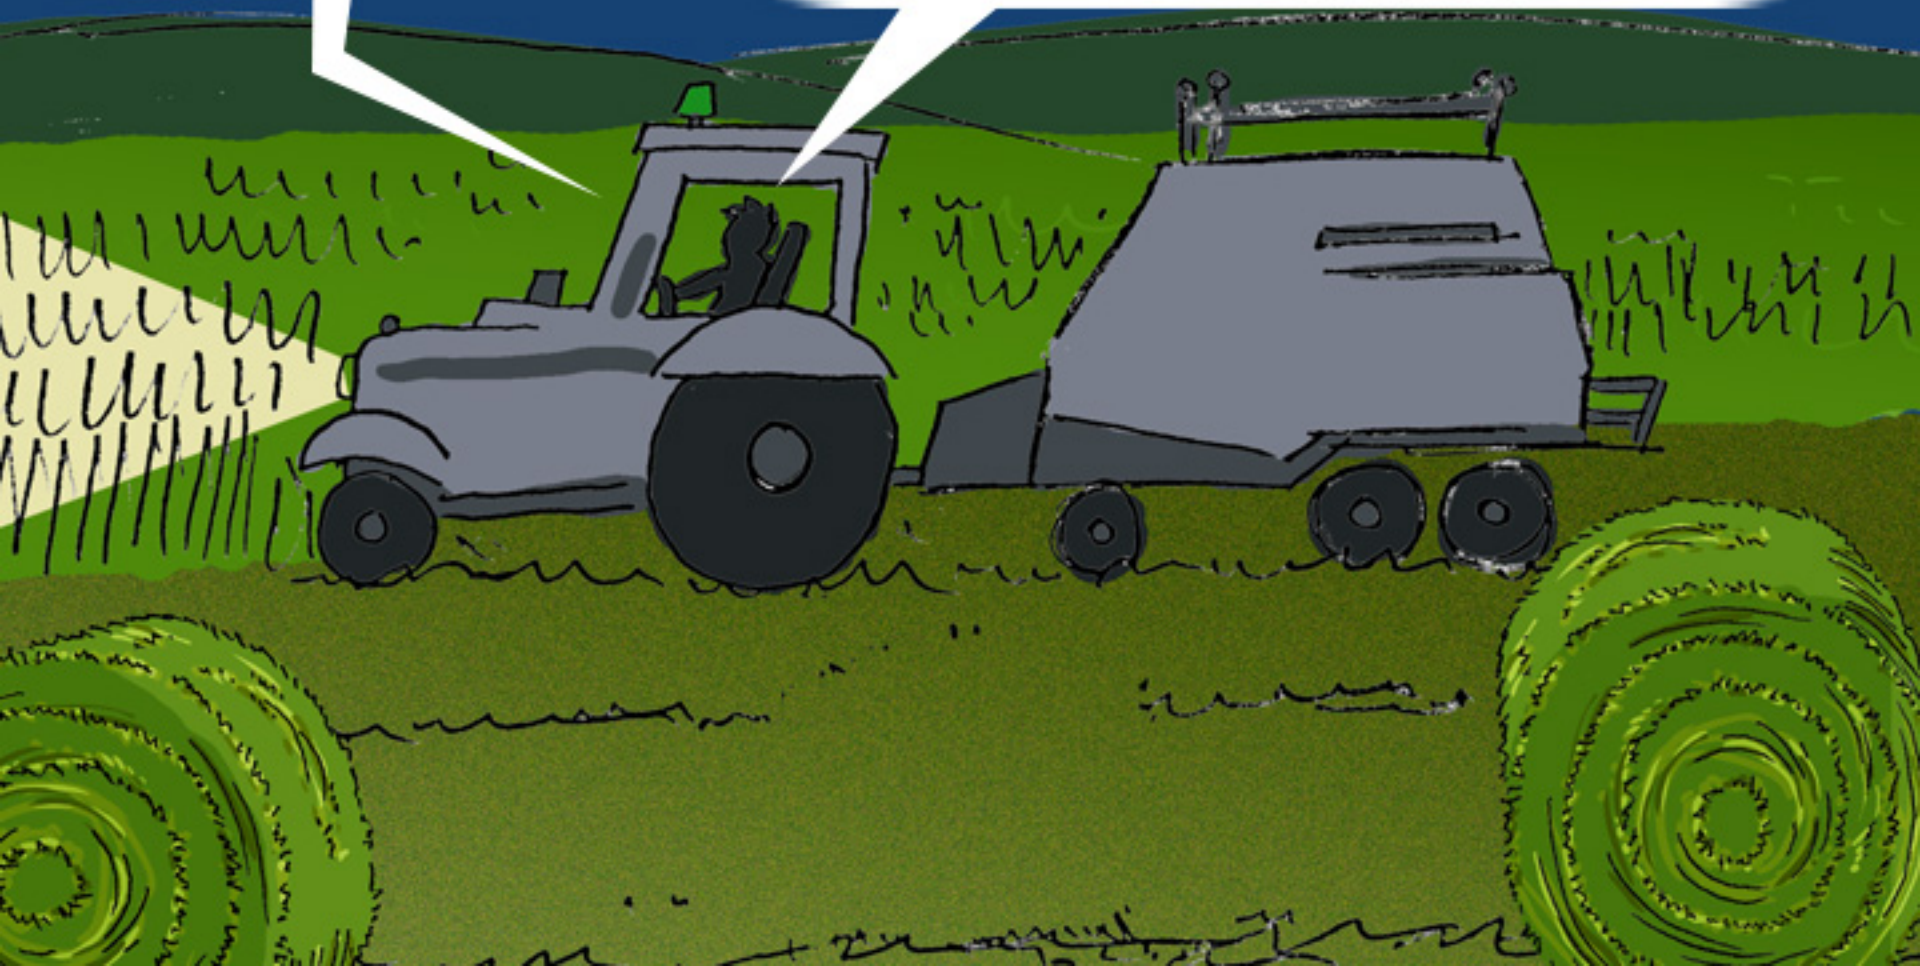

Tonight we bale the hay Ben! First we took a mower to the fields, and cut all of the alfalfa. Then we used a rake to move the hay and help it dry.

A rake?

It is a very big rake, connected to a tractor! The rake is just like the rake you use in the yard, it is just larger.

So why do we have to do this at night, Dad?

It is all about moisture, Ben, the amount of water in the hay. There must be just the right amount of dew so that the bale comes together right. Moisture makes what we call "flakes", which are sections that farmers and ranchers can easily separate when they feed their animals.

Do you like your job, Dad?

Sure do! I'm proud that I can wake up each morning, take care of the land,
and provide food and fiber for people.

You mean night?

Son?

Wake up each night.

I guess you're right, Benjamin!
